Hawaii's Beloved Queen Crosses The Great Divide

After Months Of Suffering, Liliuokalani Passes Away
At 8:30 Sunday Morning--Great Preparations
For The Funeral, To Be Held In Honolulu Sunday
--Historical Facts

Queen Liliuokalani died at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning. At the bedside at the time were her physician, Dr. W. C. Hobdy, Prince and Princess Kalaniano'le, Col. and Mrs. Curtis P. Iaukea, Mrs. Lahilahi Webb, and two faithful retainers. The end was peaceful.

As soon as the physician had pronounced the Queen dead, Rev. Leopold Kroll, of the Hawaiian congregation of St. Andrews' cathedral, and Rev. Henry H. Parker, of Kawaiahao church, were notified, and the bells began at 9 o'clock, to toll 79, that being the age of the deceased. Flags at Washington Place the capitol and throughout the city were immediately set at half mast, to remain there until after the funeral next Sunday.

The Queen had been very ill for three months and during that time had been helpless from the hips downward. Her mind, too, was weakened. For the previous two weeks the end was expected at any moment.

Monday night at 12 o'clock the body was moved from Washington Place to Kawaiahao church, where it lay in state from 10 o'clock Tuesday morning to 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

Reclaim Land For Ranching Purposes

Two Thousand Acres At Ulupalakua
To Be Cleared Of Pests
And Planted

A scheme has already been set going which will practically revolutionize things on Rose Ranch, Ulupalakua, of which Dr. J. H. Raymond is manager and his son, Harvey Raymond, is assistant manager. The idea is to put about 2,000 acres of additional land in corn, legumes, grasses and other feed for cattle, etc., with a view to increasing the amount and quality of beef and other meat.

The lands to be thus utilized are included in the old Mahee plantation tract, a good part of which is covered with paamakani and lantana. All will be reclaimed. Arsenite of soda will be used for the lantana and burning vapor will be thrown into the ground by Haugh burners for the destruction of the paamakani. This work is now under way.

Frank Sutherland, former herdsman at Waikapu, has been engaged to work with Assistant Manager Harvey Raymond. A 75-h. p. Holt caterpillar, hoes and plows have been purchased for work after the land has been cleared.

ONE HERO KNOWN HERE

Lester T. Smith, mentioned in last night's despatches as having been killed or wounded in France, was a sergeant in Troop K, 5th Cavalry, stationed at Schofield, Oahu, and well known in the Islands. Among his friends on Maui is Attorney Eugene Murphy. He was born at Appleton, Wis., and was known at Honolulu as "Ikey" Smith.

BUYS HONEY BEES

While on Maui, Charles A. Rice purchased the bees of Harold W. Rice, formerly belonging to the Cornwell ranch, and will add the apiary to the chain of the Kaula Honey Co. This purchase gives to the Kaula Honey Co., the control of the honey business on Maui, it having previously absorbed the other bee enterprises here.

THIS IS ARBOR DAY

The schools of Maui are today engaged in the usual routine of tree planting, etc., this being Arbor Day.

Plans For Funeral Of Queen On Sunday

Official announcement was made Wednesday by Maj. F. J. Green, aide to the governor, in charge of funeral arrangements for the late Queen Liliuokalani that the funeral services on Sunday morning will begin at 10 o'clock. The procession will start at 11 or 11:15 o'clock.

Admission to the throne room will be by card only. A salute of 21 guns will be fired by the army as the procession leaves the grounds and a second salute will be fired at the cemetery. Whether this will be a volley of rifles or of artillery has not been settled as yet. A conference will be held today between representatives of the army, navy and national guard, with Maj. Green representing the governor.

Capt. George R. Clark, commandant of the naval station at Pearl Harbor, announces that a company of sailors will be sent for a part in the procession, also a company of marines.

Capt. Robert Parker has been designated by Maj. Green as marshal in charge of the Hawaiian section of the procession. He is making arrangements with the various Hawaiian societies which are to be represented.

Grand Hotel Has New Management

F. K. McDonald, who for sometime had been manager of the Grand Hotel in Wailuku, left in the Claudine Saturday night for Honolulu and the Coast, not to return. Mrs. McDonald preceded her husband a week or so. It is understood that they will re-enter the hotel business in California.

Louis Distelli succeeds McDonald as receiver and becomes manager of the Grand. He is an expert in the culinary department and understands the general hotel business well. It is the new manager's intention to keep the Grand up to a first-class standard.

A NEW LAWYER

Antolino Garcia, clerk in the water works department, Wailuku, has passed the examination and been admitted to practice law in the district courts of the Territory. His first case was a garnishee matter, on Tuesday.

Dr. Roberts, an optician of Seattle, is spending three weeks on Maui.

Native Fisherman Is Lost Off Kihei

Charles Poepee Falls From Boat
Saturday And Presumably
Eaten By Sharks

Charles Poepee, a well known Hawaiian fisherman, age 26, fell from a gasoline fishing boat off Kelepolepo shortly after 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and was, supposedly, drowned and devoured by sharks. No trace of the body has been found.

The deceased, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Thomas, and two other Hawaiians came up from Makena in the boat to Kihei to lay in a supply of foodstuffs, arriving at their destination at about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. While there the Chinese pothead brought out a gallon of wine, and when they left, at about 2 p. m., three of them, including the deceased, were feeling quite happy.

On the return trip, Charles Poepee took the wheel. At the point indicated he stood up to tighten some rope on the wheel, the ends of which had become loose, lost his balance and fell overboard. His brother-in-law reached out and caught his shirt, but it tore away. The boat, at the time, was travelling very fast, besides which it was windy and it took some-

Last Day's Session Of The Supervisors

The supervisors met in final session at 2:20 Friday, Chairman Kalama presiding, all members present.

Mr. Fleming moved that D. C. Lindsay, commissioner, be authorized to make arrangements for temporary quarters for the Camp 1 school teachers, whose cottage was burned. Motion seconded by Mr. Cockett and carried.

On motion of Mr. Fleming it was decided to instruct the county engineer to call for bids for the construction of a teachers' cottage at Kealahou, plans to be the same as those for the Camp 1 cottage, the bids to be opened at the next meeting of the board, December 14, at 2 p. m.; also for a two-room teachers' cottage for Kaupo.

On motion of Mr. Fleming, the chairman was authorized to take up the matter of a site for the teachers' cottage at Kealahou school lot and arrange for an exchange of property if necessary.

Mr. Fleming moved that the board go on record as criticizing very severely the Wailuku fire department and to insist that a competent man be placed in charge of the fire apparatus.

Chicken Thief Arrested

For sometime complaints have been made regarding a very industrious chicken thief operating in central Maui. Wednesday the police succeeded in nabbing a Chinaman named Ah Sing, and think they are in a fair way to unravel the mystery. The man has confessed to one theft the night before his arrest. On that occasion he visited the camp at Waikapu, took 12 chickens, went through the sandhills to Puunene and sold them in the camp there for $7.50.

Ah Sing was arraigned in the Wailuku district court this morning on the charge of larceny (stealing chickens), entered a plea of guilty and sentenced to imprisonment for six months.

The Heir Apparent

The public has become so used to thinking of Prince Kuhio Kalaniano'le as heir apparent to the departed throne of Hawaii that it will be a sort of awakening to recall that such is not the case. Prince David Kawananakoa followed Kaulani as heir apparent and upon the death of the former, the title passed on to his son, Prince David Kalakaua Kawanakoa, and will pass down the line in that way.

Maui Boys Enjoy Camp Life On Oahu

News from Camp Liliuokalani, Oahu, bears the information that the Maui boys are comfortably quartered and everything is moving finely although the work is quite strenuous. The program published recently in this paper is being carried out.

All of the elements camped there have their musical aggregations and at leisure times there are all kinds of good music. The Maui boys are well to the front in this regard.

The supposition down there is that the Maui companies will arrive home about the 30th, depending somewhat upon transportation. So far there has been no sickness in the battalion amounting to anything—even though the Filipino guardsmen did lose their long hair.

So far, the Maui boys are enjoying themselves immensely, although it is expected that hard work will wear away the pleasure of the novelty quite soon.

A Warm Contest In Tennis Doubles

In the semi-finals of the mixed double tennis tournament played last Saturday afternoon on the courts of the Puunene Athletic Club, Engle-Couch beat Sawyer-Chillingworth, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, 7-9, 6-4. Engle-Couch had been picked for winners and they started in by taking the first set in good style. The second set went to Sawyer-Chillingworth, with Engle-Couch taking the third set. Then started the hard grind for the fourth set. Although Engle-Couch at several periods of the game had the advantage over their opponents, they were unable to win the game that would give the set, which finally went to Sawyer-Chillingworth, after playing some of the best tennis that has ever been seen on any of the local courts. At this period it was so dark that it was necessary to turn on the electric lights. Engle-Couch started the fifth set by taking four straight games. The fifth game went to Engle-Couch, with the sixth game to the winners. Sawyer-Chillingworth then took the next three games in succession, making the score 5-4, with the final game going to Engle-Couch.

Charles Cowan umpired the match and his work was up to his usual standard, which is always excellent. Alf Hansen and Kenneth Smith were the linesmen.

In the ladies singles for the Burns Cup the following matches were played during the week: Hart beat Foster, 6-3, 6-1; Campbell beat Baldwin, 6-1, 6-0, and Rosecrans beat Zabriske, 6-4, 6-1.

D. L. Austin, of Davies & Co., is spending a few days here on business.

How Our Soldiers Sailed For Camp

Got Away In Sections, But All Landed Safely — Shorn Of Flowing Locks

The Maui battalion of the Second Infantry, N. G. H., left for the encampment on Oahu in three sections, getting away Saturday evening, Sunday morning and Sunday night. The plan had been for the Matsonia to take all except the Lahaina company, but near the last of the week the agents of that steamer notified the Guard authorities at Honolulu that the Hawaii detachments of soldiers would be all she could carry under her passenger registry. It was arranged to have the Mauna Loa make a rush trip to Kahului Saturday night and the Claudine to return Sunday for the remaining men.

After leaving Kahului Saturday afternoon, the Claudine went around to Lahaina, picking up the company there, Captain Wm. Kaluakini, commanding. This company had gone into camp the night before, and was all ready, with its equipment, to move on the minute when the steamer arrived off port.

The Mauna Loa got away from Kahului at about 7 o'clock Sunday morning, taking the entire Wailuku company, 149 men and three officers; the

CONGRESSMEN NOT TO VISIT MAUI AFTER ALL

A Few Clung To Idea But Finally Quailed Away From Small
Steamer Travelling

RUSHING TO QUEEN'S FUNERAL

Maui will not get any of the Congressmen on this trip, so feasts may be called off and the band put its music away until the next time. First, it was, and would come; then it was nine, then it was six or more and now it is—nixie.

Following the death of the Queen, many of the Congressmen decided to return directly to Honolulu by the Mauna Kea, passing Maui tonight. Reports had it that probably all would give this island the go-by.

On Wednesday Senator H. A. Baldwin received a wireless stating that nine of the national legislators would like to stop off at Lahaina from the Mauna Kea tonight, spend tomorrow on Maui and take the Claudine tomorrow night for the city. After consulting with members of the committee, Senator Baldwin replied that Maui would be most delighted to have them stop over, but added a slight caution that the Claudine might be

TODAY'S AND LATEST NEWS BY WIRELESS

Honolulu—Commissioner Ishii and party visited Kawaiahao church yesterday afternoon, laid wreath on the bier of the late Queen and remain seated for five minutes. The scene at the time was quite impressive. The emblem of the Order of the Rising Sun, given by the former Emperor of Japan, was on the bier and was noticed. Ishii walked to the church, accompanied by army and navy officials.

COLLAPSE OF SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN

New York—Arthur Pallen, British war expert, in a statement says that if there be anything unsatisfactory in the military and political situation in Europe it is more than compensated for by the extraordinary news of the collapse of the German submarine campaign, which appears to have broken down altogether. This, to his mind, is the momentous news since the entry of the United States into the war. It means that German defeat on the sea is final, universal and permanent, while land successes are merely local, casual and temporary. German defeat on the sea means that the American share in the war will decide it.

MUST SPEED UP SHIPS

Philadelphia—Admiral Bowles, speaking before the Chamber of Commerce, said the United States must act with speed in ship-building program or lose the war, and all dependent upon it must be regarded as a primal patriotic duty.

ITALIANS CHECKING GERMANS

New York—The Italians are checking the enemy everywhere except on the Astig Plateau, where the invaders have gained. The Germans are strengthening their attacks and hope to drive through the Venetian plains before the Allied forces arrive. Reports that trainloads of British and French are passing given points constantly for the Italian front. General Sayoll will command the French in Italy. Four hundred thousand refugees have come in from the invaded country.

TROUBLE IN ECUADOR

Santiago, Chile—Advices from Lima state that a revolution has broken out in Ecuador and several localities are reported to be in the hands of the revolutionists.

TABU ON UNESSENTIAL FREIGHT

New York—The railroad war board denies transportation to 500 commodities which are regarded as not essential to the successful prosecution of the war. It is claimed that railroads will be unable to meet the full demands in the winter and unessentials must be cut out.
